

storage type: num v str

- strings are safer; eg string “0821” made into a number results in “821”, which is a mistake !
 - that’s why software, incl qgis often store num as str
 - but then often need to make str into num to do the math/map
- be careful about it, triple check, there are often problems and it’s non-intuitive