go public!

- make these maps public!
- show to relevant stakeholders, email to local organizations, institutions, local newspapers, etc
- oit's a waste to keep such revealing maps in a drawer what now?

ducation is a process of turning $ into knowledge, now reverse the process and turn knowledge into $ :)

academia: assisting faculty

- omost faculty want maps but lack gis skills
- this is where you come in
- ask faculty around if they need help with data
- odon't sell yourself cheap
  - ·ask to be a coauthor
  - ·make $

postdoc/research institutes/think tanks etc

- many prestigious universities offer postdocs positions
  - · often helping prestigious faculty with data
- money is not great
  - ·but you have all of the other benefits of academia
- same with research institutes
  - ·they have a ton of data
- ·and need people like you to map it

non-academic, real world jobs

- any organization has data
  - ·libraries, gas stations, fire departments, hospitals, etc
- ♦ just search for gis jobs

share with future cohorts

- i am creating a repository of projects for the future cohorts
- ♦ if you'd like NOT to share with them, please let me know!

let's stay in touch

- ◊i am always happy to discuss gis and
  - ·your future gis endeavors
- ♦ let's stay in touch!

class evaluations

- i very much care about this class
- and want to develop it further in the future
  - · possibly have intro and advanced gis; even a certificate!
- comments/suggestions are very welcomed!
- ♦ you got email from RU with a link to evaluation:
  - ·i'm going to set aside say 20min and leave early
  - ·so that you won't forget to fill them in
  - · (and can do it confidentially)
